

Ode To A Son Of God

You are offended. Someone questioned your Christian integrity. “Are you really laying down your life?” they query. This is not time to murmur, hide, or quit. This is the time the Lord was waiting for... to test your faith. To prove the knowledge of the Lord.

You live for Him. What you do is for His glory. You have not been doing what you do to please man. Do you feel you have to prove to man what Life you live? You do not have to prove anything! You just have to continue to be faithful to the Lord.

Do you hear the cry? “If you are a son of God, then come down from the cross.” That is the shout of man. “Come down and get mad, and lash back and show the Pharisees and the Romans” Or, “Come down and fall into self - you know, self pity. You have been faithful and no one appreciates it.”

Everyone of these is a call to leave the cross; to deny the Lamb. Their only hope is if you stay on it. Man will never understand. Just be faithful. It is time to pray. Shall it be, “Father, rain down fire.” No! A cross prayer is different: “Father, forgive them for they know not...”
